This information is designed for and intended to be used by trained healthcare professionals as a reference resource and assume specialized knowledge by users and the exercise of that knowledge and discretion in application of the information contained herein.

Knowledge and best practice in healthcare are constantly changing. As new research and experience broaden such knowledge, changes in practice, treatment and drug therapy may become necessary or appropriate. Users are advised to check the most current information provided (i) on procedures feature, or (ii) by the manufacturer of each product administered, to verify the recommended dose or formula, the method and duration of administration, and contraindications. It is the responsibility of the practitioner, relying on his or her own experience and knowledge of the patient, to make diagnoses, to determine dosages, to administer the best treatment for each individual patient, and to take all appropriate safety precautions. To the fullest extent permitted by law, neither Elsevier nor the Association assumes any liability for any injury and/or damage (due to malpractice, failure to warn, negligence, or any other basis) to persons or property arising out of or related to the use of this product.
